TRAINING HIGH SCHOOL

ADAPTABILITY

There isn't one word that could describe the high school experience of the class of 2011. They began their freshman year in the old dilapidated Central with promises of a new building for many years. Fortunately, under the new leadership of Principal Ras Baraka, he insisted it was time to go. With construction still underway he moved his students to the brand new state of the art Central High School.

In just 4 short years the class of 2011:

- *Transitioned to the new Central High School
- *Adapted to a new uniform policy
- *Adjusted every year to a schedule change
- *Transformation is still in progress with the implementation of the Newark Global Village School Zone theory. This will undoubtedly improve academic performance and ultimately increase standardized test scores.

Mission

The faculty, staff, and administration of Central High School will indoctrinate youngsters with the four pillars we envision by challenging students to question their limits and embrace greatness. Faculty and students alike will be confronted with an array of methods and strategies that are differentiated to meet the learning styles of all. At Central High School failures will be defied with alternative pedagogy and assessment that will motivate all to adapt and persevere.

Administration and Faculty

principal's message

Class of 2011, the end of this journey is the beginning of the rest of your life. Some of you may be smiling as you will not have to hear my voice preaching to you in convocation, or yelling at you in the auditorium, or urging you to go to class—but I want you to carry it with you in your minds and hearts and know that there is much to be done and operate like no one else can get it done but you. Remember the symbols on your uniform and let them guide you: Endurance, Imperishability, and Adaptability. Never forget you are beautiful on purpose, and wherever you find yourself, the world will know that you have been there. Represent your family, your school, and yourself well. All of humanity is at a crossroads economically, politically, and even physically. We need you now more than ever before. Shine your light Blue Devils. Good luck and Godspeed.
